

Contract of Forex Course:

1. PREAMBLE

Whereas the parties wish to formalize their mentor and client relationship and the parties undertake at all times to act in good faith. Therefore, the parties hereby agree as follows:

2. POSITION AND REPORTING

- a. The client is a Forex Student and shall perform under supervision of mentor.
- b. The client must report directly to the mentor or alternatively, in the ClubForex discussion group.

4. GENERAL DUTIES

- a. The client is required to trade in the forex market.

5. HOURS OF COMMIT

- a. The client is required to put in at least 1 hour daily to see consistent results. And is required to send a screenshot or any form of communication that will play as evidence of their work.

6. Demo to Live account

- a. Client is required to start trading on a demo account to practice the skill learnt.
- b. Client will open a demo account of a minimum of $100 and will be required to grow the account to $500 using the skills learnt during the course and mentorships.
- c. Client will only start trading on a live account based on his/her performance and not time period that they have been on a demo account. Client will start with a live trading account which is small in size.
- d. During live account, the client is required to always ask for clarity when encountering anything that is confusing from the mentor at any time as this phase of trading forex market is difficult due to the psychological shift from a demo to a live account.

7. Mentorship

- a. Mentorship for a demo account expires after 4 months.
- b. Live account mentorship expires after 1 year.

8. Termination

- a. Should a client not be active for over 2 months and not have a valid reason not stated prior or during 2 months, the contract shall be considered terminated.

9. PAYMENT

- a. Course fee per client and includes everything within the course which will include study material.
- b. Once the contract has been signed and the client has received study material the payment will not be refundable.
- c. Payment is due to be made prior to starting the course.
- d. If payment is not made and the client has already received study material, the mentor is liable to take legal action.

10. DISCLAIMER

Forex trading is a profession with relatively unlimited profit opportunities. However, you have to be aware that you will need not only knowledge and intuition, but also the ability to work under stress and the courage to take risks. Don't believe those who guarantee easy money with Forex, because Forex, like any other trade, requires hard work, discipline and sometimes luck as well.

Understand that ClubForex is selling you knowledge and not telling you that you will make millions within a specific period of time.

11. ACCEPTANCE CLAUSE:

I, _____, hereby accept and understand the conditions of undertaking this course. I confirm and accept the contents of this contract, the standards, policies, and procedures have been explained to me. And that the contents are fair and reasonable. I fully agree to abide by the terms and conditions of this contract.